Benefits
> Your own IT Product Specialist
> Reliable
> High level of service and quality
> Quickly adaptable with options for extra capacity available
> Internet connections available throughout the RAI

Our network structure is redundant and in the event of a malfunction we can instantly switch to a second connection and/or network device (failover). To provide you with connectivity quickly, we have configured and tested the most common connections. Moreover, we always use new cables over the shortest possible distance to your network equipment to prevent signal loss. Obviously, we will also continuously monitor all connections during your event.
